

Important Message about a possible Canada Post service disruption

At First Nations Bank, we value your business and are committed to keeping you informed about matters affecting your account(s). As you may know, Canada Post may experience a labour disruption as of October 22nd. We are writing to you today to let you know how you can continue to access your account information and make your payments in the event of a work stoppage.

If you have questions, please contact us or visit your nearest branch.

Here's what you need to know

If there is a postal service disruption, here are some options for you to make payments on time and manage your accounts:

- With online banking, you can view your account balances and activity, pay your bills and sign-up for online statements.
- Other options to manage your account(s) include the FNBC Mobile App, Telephone Banking, First Nations Bank or The Exchange network ATMs or any First Nations Bank Branch.

If you have questions

We appreciate the inconvenience that can be caused by a postal disruption. If you have questions, please contact us or visit your nearest branch.
